

RECEIVED

JUL 17 1980

GROUP 120

is for a compound wherein the pyrrolidinyl is monosubstituted, while in Example 6 the pyrrolidinyl is disubstituted. From the totality of the examples, it is apparent that unique biological properties are being obtained when the compound contains the disubstituted pyrrolidinyl compounds as compared with the monosubstituted pyrrolidinyl compounds.

Respectfully submitted,

OBLON, SPIVAK, McCLELLAND,
MAIER & NEUSTADT, P.C.

Richard D. Kelly
Registration No. 27,757

1755 Jefferson Davis Hwy
4th Floor
Arlington, Virginia 22202

(703) 521-5940